

A Fork in the Road?

Joe

Meet Joe....Reasonably successful career with a good company, well respected. He could have stayed the rest of his work life, but something wasn't right. Though busy, things had become boring. "Been there, done that". Big questions started to linger over him. "What am I here for?" "Will I do this the rest of my life?" "Isn't there more to life than this?" Yet, another voice was at work in him. "How could I ever think of doing something else?" You see, he was comfortable financially. He had kid's college educations and retirement to consider after all. What was the point of dreaming? He was stuck, held hostage by fear, staring at a fork in the road. Such pressure... What to do?

I know Joe well...in fact, I was Joe! It wasn't until years later that I realized the true gravity of the decision I faced. A comfortable but unfruitful prison vs a path of unknown risks, dangers; but, oh, the beauty! A path of life. I'm reminded of what William Wallace said:

"Every man dies. Not every man really lives."

Ultimately I chose the path of Adventuring with God; the path of life. I never looked back. My life has never been the same and I would have it no other way. "Wow!" doesn't even capture what happened. Indeed, risk and danger, but such life, beauty and intimacy with God. Fulfilling, fruitful, fantastic.

The sad truth is that 70% of Americans (50% of retirees) feel unfulfilled. I've seen enough now that I can spot them. It doesn't have to be this way. A friend of mine says "We're always at a fork in the road." What fork are you standing at? The challenge we face at this point is that while we can envision what it looks like to stay put, we struggle to envision the possibilities of the other path. How could we know? So, we become stuck, imprisoned - I call it "Locked In."

Life is too short to be stuck in a self imposed prison! There is a proven path to unlock your life. I know it well because I am living it. I want this for you too! I can guide you. Use the coupon Code "Character" and save 40%. Will you remain locked in or will you take the first step to truly live?
