

Do it More

Imagine having a giant arrow pointing in the direction you were to go in life. Not a map, not a compass, just a simple arrow. Your job? To go that way. Throughout the day, you'd just have to check to see that you were still on track. If you started to veer off, you'd adjust back to the arrow and keep moving. At the end of the day, you'd reflect to see if you stayed on track and ask, "What could I do to stay on track better? How can I do this more?"

This is what it is like to live with a Life Mission, your unique, personal arrow. One of those simple, but not easy things to do -- Living a life of adventure, in line with the reason you were made and placed on this Earth, at this particular time and location. Just as God planned. As marvelously complex as God is, I believe he makes his fundamental instructions, including our Life Mission (our reason for being), simple and clear. He knows we need all the help we can get to stay focused. Powerful.

This is the thing: How many people do you know that live life this way? Likely few. Why? Two main reasons. First, we have an enemy who does not want us to live the life God intended for us. He does everything in his power to prevent us -- distracting, confusing, leading us to the wrong sources for guidance. He prompts us to doubt: "How could I live life like this? I have to make a living, I have to be responsible, I have commitments and obligations, I have to...." Yet we belong to a God who has every resource at his disposal. All God asks is that we start moving to align with our arrow.

Second, most of us don't know how to find our Life Mission, our "arrow". Oh, we definitely want one. How often do you find yourself asking, "What am I here for?" Or "God, what do you want me to do?" We are seeking. We just get lost in the search. The fact is, it's not too hard to find your Life Mission if you have a guide who knows the way.

Once you know your Life Mission, just "Do it more." Don't concern yourself with making significant life changes. Throughout the day, just check to see if you are on track. If not, adjust. At the end of the day ask, "What can I do to stay on track better? How can I do this more?" Then let God take care of the rest.... Take a look at the Spirit Talk for today.
