

Mission Pulls

“Seek the Kingdom of God above all else, and live righteously, and he will give you everything you need.” Jesus Christ |
Matthew 6:33 (NLT)

Have you realized that you are packed with power? Expending your energy doing things can have great impact. How are you using your power? Who benefits?

In the midst of a broken world, we tend to apply our power pushing instead of pulling. We drive our energy into a job seeking resources to support our lives. Essential, right? But fast forward 40 years and we find ourselves ready to call it quits while quietly attempting to quell thoughts like, “was my life well lived?”

In our quest for sustenance and a good life we push ourselves into the mold of the world. Conforming, our power benefits the organization we serve. Though we gain a paycheck and, if we’re lucky, job satisfaction, the Kingdom of God stares at leftovers at best. Your conscience triggers a sense of regret asking, “Is this all God has you here to do?”

Pushing Leads to Regret

We seem think this an “either/or” proposition. Must serving the Kingdom of God simply be an add-on for those for those who wish to work somewhere other than for a church or as a missionary?

“And so, dear brothers and sisters, I plead with you to give your bodies to God because of all he has done for you. Let them be a living and holy sacrifice—the kind he will find acceptable. This is truly the way to worship him.” The Apostle Paul | Romans 12:1 (NLT)

Paul pleads for every one of us who has accepted Jesus’ sacrifice, even those operating in secular organizations, to honor God with all of ourselves. Sure, you are to be a good worker and citizen, but that is far less than giving your entire body to God. Paul says, “If you fully embrace what Jesus has done for you, why would you hold yourself back?”

Must we fear that choosing to serve the Kingdom of God first leads to poverty?

Imagine a way to fill all baskets, God's first, then yours and that of the organizations you work for. Seem impossible? Do you believe Jesus' promise, "Seek the Kingdom of God above all else... then everything else will follow?" Seeking to draw the world toward himself, Jesus understood that the alignment of our power with his will pull in every resource we need, leading to both Kingdom and personal fulfillment.

Pulling Leads to Fulfillment

Your unique Mission is who you are, why you exist. It's the "2% of DNA" that sets you apart from every other believer. You have a responsibility to fulfill it as part of Jesus' mission to redeem the world. Ignoring it leads to regret and feeling unfulfilled. Jesus said, "Do this first!"

When you set your sights on your Mission first, you are liberated to pursue the best means of fulfilling it. Perhaps a job aligns perfectly, perhaps not or perhaps one more than another... a time to switch? Either way, focus on fulfilling your Mission where you operate, your "Forums."

Go off the grid and ask these questions:

Coach's Questions:

- How might you reshape your workplace role with your Mission in mind?
- What new Forum could you place yourself in that would allow you to do your Mission more?

- How could you remove what hinders you from moving to this Forum?

Your sense of fulfillment will grow exponentially as you align with your Mission. Watch as your freshly focused power draws the world toward Christ and you experience full provision directly from the one and only Source.
